1	Five / five years old.	1	Award 1 mark for 'five' or '5'.	2b
2	Acceptable points: • the audience was made up of people's families / people she knew, not strangers • the audience clapped whatever happened, so it did not matter how well she danced • there were no judges / it was not a competition.	1	Award 1 mark for any one acceptable point. Do not accept answers that only say 'because it was small' or 'because it was in a village'.	2d
3	The noise was sudden and overwhelming.	1	Award 1 mark for the correct box ticked.	2g
4	music from speakers mums calling out names	1	Award 1 mark for both correct boxes ticked and no others.	2b
5	Acceptable points: • she was nervous / worried / anxious • she felt less experienced than the other dancers / out of place • she felt they had less chance than everyone else.	1	Award 1 mark for a reference to Edie feeling nervous, worried or unconfident because the others were more experienced. Do not accept 'she was sad' on its own.	2d
6	her stomach dropped	1	Award 1 mark for 'her stomach dropped' or 'stomach dropped'.	2a
7	Acceptable points: • her voice came out thin and wobbly • she wanted to go home / suggested they should go home	2	Award 1 mark for each acceptable piece of evidence, up to a maximum of 2 marks.	2d

	• she wanted to pretend she had a headache • her head was beginning to throb • her hands felt cold and damp • she was worried everyone would compare them with Priya Shah.
8	They should only think about their own dance, which they worked hard on.	1	Award 1 mark for the correct box ticked.	2d
9	Ocean and Edie had practised their duet for six weeks. — True Priya Shah had won the competition the year before. — True The boy who forgot his steps ran off the floor. — False Ocean could clearly see the judges' faces. — False	1	Award 1 mark for all four correct.	2b
10	Acceptable points: • she was so nervous that she was not really in control / was moving without thinking • she was in a daze / felt as if it was not really happening • part of her still did not want to go out and dance.	1	Award 1 mark for an answer that links the sentence to Ocean feeling nervous, dazed or not in control. Do not accept 'she was walking' or other literal answers.	2d
11	2 Priya Shah danced. 1 Ocean read the list pinned to the wall. 4 Ocean tied a ribbon around a girl's wrist. 3 Ocean's ribbon came untied.	1	Award 1 mark for all four numbered correctly.	2b
12	Acceptable points: • she will dance / feel braver, because Ocean has given her advice and the ribbon to remind her • she will think about her own dance instead of the other dancers, because Ocean told her to find her patch • she will be less nervous, because she knows Ocean was nervous too but still danced.	1	Award 1 mark for a plausible prediction supported by evidence from the text. Do not accept a prediction with no evidence, e.g. 'she will win'.	2e
13	Acceptable points: • at the beginning she is nervous / wants to go home ('I think we should go home'; 'her hands felt	2	Award 2 marks for an answer that describes Ocean at the beginning AND at the end, with evidence for at least one. Award 1 mark for an answer that describes the change without	2d cold and damp') • at the end she is confident / calm / proud, and helps someone else who is nervous ('Is it your first time?'; she ties the ribbon on the girl's wrist) • at the start she needs Edie to reassure her; at the end she is the one giving the advice ('You just have to find your patch').	evidence, or describes only one end of the story with evidence.

36	The picture was so lifelike / realistic that he thought, for a moment, it was the real Lord Mortlake.	1	Award 1 mark for a reference to the courtier mistaking the picture for the real lord because it was so lifelike. Do not accept 'to be polite' on its own.	2d
37	sat lazily	1	Award 1 mark for the correct box ticked.	2a
38	Acceptable points, with example evidence: • Wren knew the lord was vain / loved himself more than anything ('there was one thing he loved even more: himself'; 'eleven portraits of Lord Mortlake') • so she wove a perfect picture of him ('There, woven in threads of every colour, was Lord Mortlake himself') • any fault in the picture would be a fault in his own face ('If there is a fault in the nose, then the fault is not in my cloth') • he could not admit that his face was flawed ('he had spent his whole life believing that it was perfect'; 'He could not say that the picture was poor, because the picture was him') • the whole court was watching and laughing, so he could not go back on his word ('a lord who breaks his word in public is a lord nobody will ever trust again').	3	Award 3 marks for two acceptable points, at least one supported with evidence. Award 2 marks for two acceptable points with no evidence, or one acceptable point supported with evidence. Award 1 mark for one acceptable point with no evidence. Do not accept answers that only say 'because the cloth was very good'.	2d
39	Acceptable points: • everyone expected her to ask for something for herself (gold, jewels, a house), but she asked for something to help the whole valley (the looms returned and the cloth tax ended)	1	Award 1 mark for an answer that contrasts a reward for herself with a reward for others, and says what this shows about Wren. Do not accept answers that only describe one of the rewards.	2h

	• this shows she is unselfish / kind / cares about others / fair.
40	Cleverness can defeat people who are greedy and vain.	1	Award 1 mark for the correct box ticked.	2c
